GROWING IN NUMBER.

List of Dead in the Bohemian Mine Disaster.

NEARLY FOUR HUNDRED DEAD.

But One Hundred and Forty Accounted for of the Five Hundred in the Mine at the Time of the Accident—Work of Recovering the Dead Bodies—Other Foreign News.

VIENNA, June 3.—Dispatches from Przibram say that with every hour an increase of the estimated mortality in the mines is reported. Of the 500 men at work in the mine when the fire started, but 140 can be found. The rest are undoubtedly dead in the mines. Besides the workmen, five pupils and an instructor in the Przibram School of Mines, who descended the shaft an hour before the alarm was given, are missing.

The young men went down with the instructor, as had been their wont for the last few weeks, to study practical mining. All five were about to be graduated and were taking the course in the mine preparatory to their final examinations. Their families have been notified and the fathers of two have gone to Przibram from Prague, and the fathers of the other three are expected tonight. They were summoned merely to identify the bodies of their sons, as all hope that any of the imprisoned miners will be taken out alive has been abandoned.

The work of bringing up the bodies has been continued steadily. Those at a distance from the shaft were on their faces, and ten in a group were prostrate with their heads wrapped in coats. Most of the men were suffocated, it is thought, before the flames reached them. In one narrow gallery fifteen charred trunks were found in a heap of embers, but such cases of cremation seem to have been the exception.

The bodies have been laid out on pine boards under a temporary lean-to against the company's shops at the mouth of the pit. Comparatively few of the bodies have been identified. About twenty-five have been taken away by the widows of dead miners. More than 135 are still unclaimed as the disfigurement of the features has rendered most of them unrecognizable. The cage brings up the bodies, nine or ten at a time. When the poisonous vapors in the far interior of the mine have been abated, the work will be carried on more rapidly as at present the searchers have to proceed with extreme care and have not ventured into the parts last burned and to which the majority of the miners are thought to have been driven by the advancing flames.

It is estimated that more than 200 families representing almost 1,000 of the population of Przibram have been left destitute and helpless by the accident. The clergy of the city have been in the field around the pits mouth distributing money and food and free dinners will be given to the sufferers by the city authorities to-morrow. Appeals for help have been sent out in all directions and about 10,000 gulden are said to have been received from Prague alone. Emperor Franz Joseph has sent a contribution, and has dispatched an official from the department of the interior to make a special report of the disaster. Much of the money will be used to bury the bodies of the dead miners as their families are too destitute to pay the expenses of burial.

Cyclone Strikes a Mail Train.

VIENNA, June 3.—A cyclone struck the mail train from Agram to Brodwarth at Nowsko station yesterday evening. The two rear coaches were lifted from the track, the coupling with the rest of the train was broken and they were landed at the base of a twenty-foot embankment. The locomotive and other cars were tumbled from the track and rolled down the embankment. Twenty persons were injured, three so seriously that they will probably die. In the vicinity of Nowsko much damage was done. Trees were uprooted, cattle were killed and barns and sheds were laid flat.

REVOLUTON IN HONDURAS.

The Government Overthrown by Twenty-Five Armed Men.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The steamship Miranda, which has just arrived from Greytown and Livingston, Central America, brings the news of a revolution in Spanish Honduras, which was instigated May 1 by the defeated candidate for president. General Borrillas is the leader of the insurrection, the defeated presidential candidate being his uncle. After the election, the defeated candidate and six prominent officers of Honduras, including General Borrillas, were exiled. They went to Guatemala, where General Borrillas gathered together a number of sympathizers, and crossing the border on May 17, arrived opposite the city of Puerto Cortez.

The attacking army numbered twenty-five men and six officers. They had a number of small field pieces, and with these they began to shell the town. The main object of attack was the custom house. There were four American schooners near by at the time, and the shells fell dangerously near them. They soon ran up the American flag, however, and after that both the attacking party and the defending parties took good care to train the shot away from the American schooners. The bombardment continued all day, and the custom house officials put to the forest back of the town, followed by the citizens.

The attacking army, although numbering but twenty-five, forced the national troops to retire and took possession of the town. General Borrillas and his friends secured all the arms and ammunition stored in the custom house and then retreated to Livingston. During the engagement but one man was killed and four injured.

At Livingston, General Borrillas and four officers were captured and put into prison where two of the officers died from fever.

What was left of General Borrillas' little band retreated to the forests where they still were at last advice, making nightly sallies into adjoining towns, seizing guns and ammunition wherever found.

Don M. Gollerio, a warm supporter of General Borrillas was a passenger on the Miranda. It is said he has come here to secure arms and ammunition for Borrillas.

The consul general of Honduras in this city confirmed the reports of the revolution.

A MOB'S MISTAKE.

An Innocent Man's Neck Twice Endangered.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 3.—Ernest O. Camero, a Cuban, twice came near being hanged by a mob yesterday, for a crime he did not commit. Rena Hooker, a nine-year-old negro girl, was assaulted on Sunday, and she was supposed to have indicated Camero as her assailant. He was arrested and arraigned before Justice De Lamar, another Cuban, but dismissed.

It was believed by the crowd in the court room that he had let the prisoner go through partiality, and in two minutes after the case was dismissed a rope was thrown around Camero's neck. But before he could be strung up somebody released him. Camero then rushed to the justice for protection, but De Lamar was roughly handled, and the rope was fixed around Camero's neck again, and swung over a beam in the court room.

As it began to tighten Camero said the guilty man was named Fernandez. He had refused the information before. De Lamar then reversed his decision and committed Camero to jail.

Ten minutes afterward Fernandez was told of the fury of the mob and that his guilt was known. He was arrested. Believing he was dying he confessed and cleared Camero.

CYCLONE FABRICATOR.

He Comes to the Scratch With His Fairy Tales.

KANSAS CITY, June 3.—Thomas George, of George & Lowe, lawyers, has returned from Wellington, Kan. He relates some remarkable stories of the cyclone that wrecked the city Friday night. A young woman was writing a letter in the second story of her father's house, and a moment after the storm broke she was standing in the schoolyard, three blocks away, uninjured but not alone. A young man whom she knew came sailing through the air and alighted near by. He had sought shelter in a restaurant a quarter of a mile away, and had sailed through the air without injury.

A large refrigerator filled with three dozen eggs, numerous bottles from Kansas City and some butter and vegetables were found in the cellar after the storm, upright, without anything inside broken. Before the storm it was in the dining room upstairs, and though the house had been blown away, the floor remained, and the only way for the refrigerator to get to the cellar was to walk downstairs and go through the door. There are plenty of people who will swear that it was upstairs before the storm and down in the cellar afterwards.

SALT LAKE, June 3.—A decision was rendered in the territorial court here Wednesday, which declares the gentle wing of the Democratic party to be the only legal organization of the party in the territory. This decision it is thought will leave the Mormon wing without representation in the national convention.

HANGED BY A MOB.

A Foul Crime Quickly Avenged by Infuriated Citizens.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., June 3.—Robert Jackson, colored, yesterday perpetrated a most brutal assault upon the person of Miss Lena McMahon, of this place. The crime was committed in view of a number of young girls, the negro, with almost inhuman depravity, adding the most disgusting features to his heinous offense.

Two young negroes, who were also near the scene of the assault, made an attempt to capture the offender, but the brutal rascal held them at bay with a revolver.

After the commission of his crime, Jackson fled. His poor victim lay insensible on the ground, and is now suffering from injuries which will in all probability prove fatal.

The report of the crime spread with great rapidity and in a very short time a posse was in pursuit of the negro. He was traced for several miles along the Huguenot highway to the race course, where his track was lost.

At Cuddelack, nine miles from Port Jervis, Jackson was captured. The brute was brought here and when questioned confessed his crime. He implicated William Foley, a white man, whom he claimed was in the conspiracy to ruin Miss McMahon.

When the citizens heard that the villain had been captured and brought to the village, they assembled in large numbers around the local lockup and excitedly discussed the matter. The more fiery ones declared that lynching was the only thing that could wipe out the foul crime, and they soon won over to their views a large number of adherents. "Act at once!" was the cry which went up, and a rush was made for the jail door. This soon gave way before the vigorous onslaughts of the furious mob and the prisoner was soon in their hands. The police vainly tried to rescue the prisoner.

The mob dragged the negro up Hammond street and down as far as the residence of E. F. Fowler, intending to take him before his victim, but when they reached the latter place, the anger of the mob could no longer be restrained, and he was hanged to the nearest tree. A howling mob of over one hundred witnessed the lynching. The body was allowed to swing from the tree for over an hour, where it was viewed by thousands.

Jackson was twenty-two years old. His parents reside in Port Jervis, N. J., but he has lived here for over a year.

HIS SUMMER IN JAIL.

Henry E. Herdman Must Wait Until September to Be Tried.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 3.—The preliminary trial of Harry E. Herdman, accused of using the mails for fraudulent purposes, was concluded before United States Commissioner Van Buren yesterday afternoon, and the prisoner was held for grand jury action, and his bond fixed at $2,000. He was unable to furnish bail-bond, and was committed to jail. He will have to remain in jail until September, and his case can not be reached by the court before that time.

The principal witness against Herdman was his twelve-year-old stepdaughter. She related how he had traveled from one city to another, at each place sending out letters offering positions, the answers, with the fee demanded, to be sent to Windsor, Canada. She said that once in a great while Herdman would go to Windsor and get his mail. He traveled under many different aliases, never using the same name in two cities.

The police who arrested Herdman here on the charge of wife-beating, told what they knew about the case, and Postoffice Inspector Leathman related how he had been on the track of the prisoner for four months, but was unable to effect his capture because he changed his name and place of residence so often. There was sufficient evidence submitted to show that Herdman or whatever his real name may be, has victimized many persons in all parts of the country. The prisoner's wife will return to Peru, Ind., where he married her only a few months ago.

KENTUCKY TRAGEDY.

A Young Wife Murdered and a Lynching Likely to Follow.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 3.—Mrs. Austin Porter, the young wife of Austin Porter, twenty-four years old, has been murdered by her husband. The couple resided in Carter county, one hundred miles east of this city. Mrs. Porter was a Miss Yates, the daughter of a wealthy and influential citizen, and two years ago eloped with Porter. After a baby was born, Porter began to abuse his wife, and treated her so badly that her father forced him to leave the vicinity. A sister of Mrs. Porter's went to stay with her until arrangements could be made for her removal to her father's home.

On last Thursday night Porter returned to his home and got in through the window. He went to his wife's bedroom and with a large hunting knife cut her almost to pieces. He did no harm to the baby, or to Mrs. Porter's sister. Porter escaped, but a large force of men are hunting for him, who say they will burn him at the stake should he fall into their hands.

Rare Surgical Operation.

COLUMBUS, Ind., June 3.—A rare surgical operation was performed yesterday on a youth named Steinberger, aged sixteen—that is, craniotomy, being the tenth case of its kind on record. The boy was a congenital imbecile, and the operation consisted in removing a piece of the skull, one-half inch wide and four inches long. The operation was performed at the city hospital by Dr. A. J. Banker, assisted by all the local physicians. The boy stood the operation well.

TRAIN HELD UP.

Chicago and Galveston Express Car Robbed.

ONLY A SMALL SUM SECURED.

Red Rock, in the Cherokee Strip, the Scene of the Outrage—Six Masked Men Do the Work—A Large Posse in Pursuit But With Little Prospects of Capturing the Robbers.

GUTHRIE, O. T., June 3.—The south-bound Chicago and Galveston express, No. 403, on the Santa Fe, due at 11:30 Wednesday night, did not arrive until nearly 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause of the delay was the holding up of the train at Red Rock in the Cherokee strip, and the robbery of the express car. Red Rock is a water station, and just as the train was starting up two masked men jumped up on the engine, and with drawn Winchesters, compelled Engineer Carlback to stop the train.

The engineer and his fireman were then compelled to descend from the engine. Here they found four other masked men who went to the mail car and compelled Messengers Williams and Taylor to dismount. The express car was next and was the objective point of the robbers. Fireman Rogers was compelled to break in the door of the express car with a pick, while the two masked men stood near. The other four robbers kept up a continual firing through the sides of the car. The express messenger returned the fire through the door, perforating Rogers' clothes with several bullets.

As soon as the door gave way, Rogers was pushed in and the two robbers followed. The express messengers, Whittles and Richey, then surrendered and Fireman Rogers was compelled to break open the safe with a sledge. The thieves helped themselves to the contents and relieved Richey of $50 and a gold watch and then mounted their horses and rode away. They were unlucky in the selection of the night, as the express business was small, and they did not secure more than $300 or $400. Only two nights before this the train carried $50,000.

The robbery took place only a few miles from where the same train was robbed a year ago by the Daltons, and it is believed that the same crowd held up the train Wednesday night. Nobody lives at Red Rock but the agent and a few section men, and as they had no horses a chase could not be given. A large posse left here at daylight for the scene, but as it is over fifty miles distant the robbers will get a good start.

THE WAR'S HIGH WATER MARK.

Dedication of the Shaft Marking the Historic Spot.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 3.—The high water mark monument was dedicated here yesterday afternoon in the presence of an immense throng, largely composed of union veterans and in which the First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Eleventh and Twelfth army corps, as well as the artillery and cavalry, were well represented, together with the representatives of the Army of the Potomac, the executives of this and adjacent states and others.

The oration was delivered by Congressman H. H. Bingham, of Philadelphia, who was wounded in the famous battle of which this monument is a memorial. General Bingham was captain and judge advocate on the staff of Major General Hancock, and was in the thick of the fray during Longstreet's assault. When Brigadier General Armistead with one hundred of his men led the advance of Longstreet's column in the most daring manner over the stone wall behind which the Philadelphia brigade lay and when Armistead fell mortally wounded within the Union lines, it was Captain Bingham who received his messages and keepsakes to be sent, through General Hancock, to his family. At the battle of Gettysburg he was wounded in the head, near the corner of woods where the monument is erected.

RAN DOWN BY A TRAIN.

A Father Killed and His Daughter Seriously Injured.

GREEN SPRING, O., June 3.—At 7 o'clock yesterday morning, David Kessler, a wealthy farmer of Adams township, this county, accompanied by his daughter, a miss of eighteen, while crossing the Nickel Plate railroad at Lelandville, was run down by the west-bound local freight, resulting in injuries to himself from which he died an hour later, and probably fatal injuries to his daughter.

The team was unnoticed by the train hands until within sixty feet of the scene of the accident. The whistle was then blown and every effort put forth to avert the catastrophe, but all to no purpose. One of the horses was instantly killed. The other escaped without injury. The buggy and its occupants were dragged eighty feet from the crossing and then deposited in the ditch at the side of the track.

Bishop Hogan Wins.

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—The widely known and bitterly fought contest between Father Haynes, of Pierce City, Mo., and Bishop Hogan, of Kansas City, has at last been determined against the priest. Private information comes from Rome that the holy see, after carefully listening to and considering the merits of the appeal, has decided in the prelate's favor. Father Haynes' conduct of his parish in various respects was not satisfactory to Bishop Hogan, and after several requests were disobeyed, the priest was unfrocked. He appealed to Archbishop Kenrick, and after vainly trying to regain possession of his church, he went to Rome.

BROTHER KELLAR, in his editorial notes

 Sallee, our Commonwealth's Attorney, said to us at the Louisville convention

 had been so uniformly kind to him.

We can return Mr. Sallee's expression of friendship, and wish him all the good

 discharge of his duties a young man,

 our opinion ever neglect a duty."

THE SANITARIUM.

The First Graduate Gives the Experience He Has Passed Through.

An Interesting Interview With Mr. A. M. Campbell on the Gold Cure.

Mr. A. M. Campbell, who is known to have a great head in real estate and financial affairs, had the time yesterday to give a BULLETIN representative a very instructive talk on a subject of general interest and concern.

"Well," said he, "I am probably better pleased with myself just now than at any other period of my life. Don't you know that the drinking of liquor to excess is as much a disease as any condition a man may fall into? Fifteen years of experience tells me that."

Pardon me, Mr. Campbell, I'll not ask you about the unhappy side of alcoholism, but suppose, for the readers of the BULLETIN, you give us an insight into what a man has to go through with to graduate from the Maysville Sanitarium.

"No. I should not like to recall the unhappy scenes that drunkenness leads to," replied Mr. Campbell; "it brings almost a shock to think of it, since all desire and want for stimulation are lost to me. But I am enthusiastic and like to talk of the Sanitarium business and the priceless good it has done for me. In the first place, I was the first patient treated at our home institution, and went in with about the same dread and expectancy some persons still have of it. My first day's treatment, however, reassured me. The physicians in charge asked for my cooperation and confidence, allowing me every opportunity to be taught just how a cure was to be effected. And I tell you right here there is more divinity than sorcery or secrecy in the work. It raises the moral tone of a man and gives self-respect instead of self-reproach a chance to redeem him.

"I was allowed all the whisky I had an appetite for. I watched carefully every detail of the work. I even asked for information concerning the ingredients of the medicine I took. Upon looking them up I found that all educated physicians were familiar with their action upon the human system. But they have to be given on a closely scientific plan, and that is one reason why the Maysville Sanitarium Company selected the medical staff they now have.

"The one fact, all important, is the skill and care in making compounds and thereby having happy results. It is intricate only so far as a man must understand his business. During treatment several physicians visited us, and I know the latch string hangs out to all, and they were enthusiastic, too, in praise of the institution."

Did you suffer at any time from the effects of gold or other medicines?

"I suffered no inconvenience. In fact, began to improve from the start, and now weigh not less than ten pounds more than when I began. It depresses no physical effort or power."

How about the hypodermics or "shots," as the boys call them?

"I was 'shot' eighty-four times, and if I had not been reclaimed by that number I would willingly bare my arm for eighty-four thousand more if necessary."

Do they hurt?

"No more than a pinch from a friend who wants you to go take a drink on Sunday 'without exciting much attention.' In fact, there is never a moment of suffering if one will accept the change in his habit, and not be fool enough to make a fight against the treatment. You as unconsciously lose your appetite for drink as you once gained it. There is no element of disgust or repulsion at any stage.

"And again I assert the time when I quit I felt that there was something of a divine nature taking the place of the morbid appetite in my brain. The Lord has a hand at the devil, I am certain—because, for the first time in my whole life I can carry whisky with me, handle it, smell of it and have no desire to take it. So far as the love of it is concerned now, I could relish a bit of sand as much as a drink of liquor."

Are you confident you are cured?

"I am cured, and so well I know it,—for now I have faith in myself, my family and friends have trust in me!"

Have you ever tried to quit or cure yourself?

"Yes, one hundred times! But the most sacred oaths and resolutions are too frail to withstand a whisky hunger. With the disease there, the beginning again only awaits a temptation. With a cure, it is not a resolution, but a deliverance."

You talk so heartily, Mr. Campbell, about the institution I suppose you are a stockholder?

"No, I have no monetary interest in the concern. I am glad of it for one reason above all. When I advise a friend or any one I meet who is victim to the worst of diseases, alcoholism, I can say my interest comes from the heart alone and not from a penny gain. I will always be found willing to lend a hand to reclaim any one from the despair of alcoholism."

"UNIQUE AND ENTERTAINING."

The Lexington Leader's Comments on Rev. O. S. Lucas' Address.

In its account of the commencement exercises of Hamilton Female College, the Lexington Leader says: "Rev. O. S. Lucas, of Maysville, made a most able and striking address on 'Sexhood in the Problem of Education.' He deprecated the growing prevalence of fads and revolutions in the education of women. Women and men are essentially different beings, they are not to be educated by the same methods. You can't educate a woman into a man or a man into a woman any more than you can educate an apple into a potato. How shall women be educated? The answer is in herself."

"In the hand of every educable being is placed a sealed curriculum counter-signed by the autograph of the Almighty. The potentialities of that individual's education are therein contained. The sexes he considered from an abstractly scientific point of view—they were positive and negative poles—different essences, each perfect in itself, neither enjoying any points of superiority. The man scientifically considered is the brain and the woman the soul and heart. Their methods of education therefore should be altogether on dissimilar lines."

"His views were most unique and entertaining, and very strikingly and handsomely expressed. Seldom has a commencement address attracted as much attention as that of Mr. Lucas."

ON THE GROUNDS.

Republican Politicians Gathering at Minneapolis.

BUT TWO NAMES MENTIONED.

Either Harrison or Blaine Will Be Nominated—No Dark Horse in the Field.
The Friends of Both Men Confident of Victory—Views of Some of Those Already at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3.—Yesterday
trains brought in the candidates of both the Harrison and Blaine booms. The vanguard of the Harrisonians, which arrived yesterday, was reinforced by the appearance on the scene of John C. New,
to whom the president has intrusted the management of his cause. Mr. New professed the greatest confidence in the prospects for the nomination of his chief on the first ballot.

Chairman Clarkson himself headed the Blaine delegation, and he had with him J. Sloat Fassett, of New York; H.
C. Payne, of Milwaukee; J. P. Sanborn, of Port Huron; Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota; A. L. Conger, of Akron, O., and other prominent anti-Harrison men.

The early arrival of the Harrison vanguard has proved a great surprise to the Blaine men. They were not expecting the Harrison boomers until tomorrow and their arrival yesterday has opened the preliminary skirmish a day sooner than was expected. The plan of the Harrison campaign as far as it has been disclosed in this skirmish is first to make a vigorous and personal warfare on Platt, Quay, Foraker and the other prominent anti-Harrison leaders, and second, if it becomes necessary, to make an aggressive attack on Blaine himself
so that it will be impossible for the secretary to permit the use of his name.

John C. New declared this morning when asked if another letter was expected from Blaine, that they did not want another letter. "One is enough," he said, "to any one that reads and understands the English language. The Blaine letter was plain enough and we don't ask for another. Harrison will be named on the first ballot beyond question."

Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, is another Harrison boomer who is on the ground. He declares that Blaine will prove himself insincere if he accepts anything less than a unanimous nomination, which he can not get. Spooner will second Depew's nomination of Harrison in all probability.

Thus far the signs all point to the fact that the contest for the nomination will be between the friends of Harrison and Blaine. The dark horses are not heard of. Messrs. Clarkson and Fassett say that Alger is for Blaine, and hint that he will throw his strength to the man from Maine.

The air is filled with politics. The Harrison men have taken possession of the West hotel, and the boom of the present incumbent of the White House is being worked for all there is in it.

At Fairbanks, the palatial residence of Senator Washburn, Messrs. Clarkson, Fassett, Hansbrough, Conger and Payne and others were dined last night by the senator.

The Blaine men have not yet opened the battle, and the president's followers
practically have the field to themselves.
The Indians are working tooth and nail. Ten thousand Harrison badges have been distributed, and Blaine's letter to Chairman Clarkson printed in circular form is being circulated by hundreds.
Yesterday evening it was announced that the president had about 640 instructed votes. This statement is viewed with incredulity by the Blaine supporters.

The Sioux City (Ia.) Republicans have opened Blaine headquarters and are preparing to push the canvass of the secretary. The rumor that the Chicago Blaine club would arrive Saturday instead of next Monday has had the effect of stimulating the Blaine men.

"I think Blaine will be nominated on the first ballot," said Chairman Clarkson.

"Will he accept the nomination, General Clarkson?"

"I never knew a man to refuse it."

"We want to nominate the strongest man in the party," resumed Chairman Clarkson, "and I think James G. Blaine is the man. The present campaign will be one of the fiercest ever known in American politics. In my judgment it has been a certain belief of the masses of the party for two years that Blaine should head the ticket in 1892."

"How can he accept the nomination
after his letter of declination?"

"He will be nominated in spite of himself."

"But Shiel, of Indiana, claims that Harrison has 640 votes."

"That is a bit of Indiana poetry; if the Harrison men have already secured control of the convention, why are they already on the ground?"

Mr. A. McGuiness, the advance guard of the Chicago Blaine clubs and a very intimate friend of the Blaine family arrived yesterday and registered at the West hotel where he flashed his Blaine badge in the face of John C. New, of Indiana, declaring he had positive information Blaine would make as strong a fight for the nomination as he did in 1884.

The Minnesota delegation has not so far declared itself, but will caucus Monday
to determine on a course of action.
There are but two Harrison men in the delegation—Dunnell and Hale, of the First district. The others are for Blaine, except possibly Stanford Newell, of St. Paul, who is credited with Alger leanings. Ex-Governor J. C. Pillsbury, the Minneapolis delegate-at-large, will present to the resolutions committee a plan for the platform declaring for single presidential terms. This may precipitate a Blaine-Harrison test vote.

The executive committee, it is given out, has agreed on J. Sloat Fassett for temporary chairman, and Colonel Charles W. Johnson, of Minneapolis, for temporary secretary. Both are Blaine men.

Several women have been permitted

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED.

One Man Fatally and a Number of Others
Less Seriously Injured.

RUTLAND, Vt., June 3.—A passenger train on the Delaware and Hudson Canal railroad was wrecked near Hydeville yesterday. Conductor E. S. Wood, of Rutland, received injuries from which he died at midnight.

The following persons were injured,
none of them fatally:

Mrs. Fred K. Fenn and two children,
of Rutland.

W. H. Preston, of Fairhaven.

Albert Tuttle, of Fairhaven; Mrs. Tuttle, his wife, and Miss Tuttle, a daughter.

N. A. Litchfield, of Hydeville.

Frederick Spencer, of Whitehall, New York.

Mr. Miller and son, of Albany.

F. D. Fisk, of Brattleboro.

W. F. Hunt, of Worcester, Mass.

The engineer of the train says that he cannot explain the accident. The train was running at its usual rate and the track was comparatively new.

Ran Into a Washout.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—The Titusville
express on the Allegheny Valley railroad, which left the Union depot at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, ran into a washout near Foster station, nine miles below Franklin, at 6 o'clock last night.
The engine and one baggage car went down the embankment, and Engineer
A. F. Reed and Fireman Shearer, both of Oakmont, were dangerously and probably fatally injured. Baggage
Master Madden, Express Messenger
Metz and the mail agent were the only occupants of the car that went down
and were painfully injured.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

A Day of Wrangling in the House and Nothing Done in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The house spent another day in wrangling over the postoffice appropriation bill, making but little headway. Points of order were made to nearly every amendment submitted, and the members interested addressed themselves to technical questions.

Mr. Livingston, Democrat, of Georgia, was fortunate in securing the adoption of his amendment increasing the appropriation for inland mail transportation by star routes, from $5,645,000
to $5,845,000; an amendment was also adopted increasing the appropriation for messenger service from $1,100,000 to $1, 160,000. One hundred thousand dollars was granted for mail facilities in connection with the world's fair Columbian exposition. Pending further discussion, the house adjourned.

The exodus of Republican senators to Minneapolis had the effect of making the senate chamber a very quiet place yesterday. The session was taken up in considering and disposing of routine
business and in the delivery by Mr.
Stewart of the concluding portion of his free coinage speech. A resolution providing for an investigation of recent national bank failures was adopted and a committee of senators was appointed to conduct the inquiry. The senate then adjourned until Monday.

Ended His Life with a Gun.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—Early yesterday morning the body of a fine-looking, well dressed German, was found lying in a field near Second avenue, in Hazelwood.
The face was that of a man of education and refinement. Near the right hand was a revolver, the instrument which had sent two bullets into the man's head, just above the right ear.
Some silver coin, a watch and a passport, issued to William Blank, April 29, 1892, of Crampe county, Bublitz, Germany, stating that Blank was to sail from Stettin, May 7, was found in his pockets.

Ended His Life in the River.

DAYTON, O., June 3.—Fred Hild, an old and respected German citizen, suc-cided yesterday by jumping into the river. He had accumulated considerable property in the bakery business, but has been despondent since the death of his wife. At the usual hour yesterday,
his daughter called him for breakfast,
and receiving no response, opened his bedroom door. As he was not there the family became alarmed, and soon found his hat and cane on the river bank, and an hour later the body was discovered in an eddy a quarter of a mile below
where he jumped in.

Extent of the Pennsylvania Flood.

BEDFORD, Pa., June 3.—The high water at Everett has damaged property to the extent of about $1,000. The steam tannery of M. D. Barnard, will lose about $1,500. Homes belonging to the employees of the tannery, were moved from their foundations. The different stores along the line of the flood all suffer considerably, and some of the lower floors were under several feet of water. A man named Calhoun was almost drowned.

Painters' Scaffold Falls.

CLEVELAND, June 3.—While three men were at work upon a suspended plank yesterday afternoon painting the Weddel House, a sudden slipping of the rope caused the plank to turn over, precipitating two of the men from the fifth story to the sidewalk. Charles Staley was almost instantly killed and George Edwards was so badly injured that he cannot recover. The other workman caught hold of the rope and hung on until rescued.

Anson Not Going to New York.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The rumor that the directors of the New York base ball club were after Captain Anson of the Chicago club, to act as manager, captain and player of the team, was denied Wednesday morning by J. Walter Spalding, one of the directors. Two weeks ago Anson came out with a protest against the treatment he was receiving from the regular Chicago spectators. "Win or lose," he said, "I get nothing but jeers. This was given as the reason for the New York directors'
action in the matter."

Want More Pay.

DECATUR, Ill., June 3.—The brick-makers and teamsters of this city struck for more pay. Instead of granting their demands, the manufacturers have closed all their yards and announced that they will go out of business.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

Some Startling Things Have Occurred in China and Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The steamer
City of Rio Del Janeiro arrived last night from Kong Kong and Yokohama bringing the following advices:

Floods have inundated the cities of Mygata and Nagano, China.

Chun Seik, the notorious pirate chief,
has been captured by the Canton authorities.

There has been a repetition of antiforeign demonstrations at Ichang, but no details have been given of attacks on foreign missions.

The steamer Laokay foundered near Dia, Tonquin, and thirty-two persons were drowned.

School Building Struck by Lightning.

MASSILLON, O., June 3.—The Canal
Fulton, O., high school building, a large brick structure, was struck by lightning
yesterday while school was in session.
Many of the pupils were seriously shocked, but not one was injured. The building was considerably damaged.

A Child Suffocated in a Vault.

ZANESVILLE, O., June 3.—The eight-teen-months-old child of William Slack
wandered away from home yesterday.
It was found twenty minutes later suffocated in an outhouse vault.

Strangled to Death on Snuff.

CADIZ, O., June 3.—Last evening Mrs.
Henry Thomas sent her nine-year-old son Willie to a store to buy snuff. Later the boy was found dead near his home, with his mouth full of snuff. It is supposed that the boy had undertaken to use the tobacco and was strangled to death.
